

Music in Monroe County, TN

Tennessee is famous for its musical heritage. You can enjoy some of that heritage right here in Monroe County!

SongFarmers of Tellico Plains frequently perform live across the county including at the Tellico Plains Community Center. They play bluegrass and mountain music, Front Porch style. Check their Facebook page to see where and when they'll play next. Their performances are always free and open to anyone who wants to participate.

Multiple restaurants feature live music performances. Check their Facebook pages for schedules of who will be performing.