

Art in Monroe County, TN

For all things art in Monroe County, we have to mention our friends over at MACA. Their website lists all the events and programs that both locals and tourists would be interested in!

Scott Street Gallery in downtown Tellico features art by local artists, all for sale. The art includes paintings, prints, and carvings with beautiful imagery of nature.

If you are interested in making your own art, we recommend checking out 3 Generations Art Studio in Sweetwater. Learn how to paint or make pottery in various classes. If you don't feel like getting your hands dirty or exercising your imagination, they also have a shop.

There are several murals to be found across the county including:

Visit Monroe County by Curtis Glover

110 Locust St, Madisonville, TN

Hurray Votes by Jenny Ustick

233 N Main St, Sweetwater, TN

This Girl Can by Kim Radford

120 W. Morris St, Sweetwater, TN

Lilies of Devotion by Megan Lingerfelt

186 Warren St, Madisonville, TN

Dream Cloud by Nathan Brown

228 Warren St, Madisonville, TN

Brown Trout by Cosby Hayes & Sarah Painter

205B Tellico St, Madisonville, TN

Mural at Trout Mountain Inn

100 Scott St, Tellico Plains, TN

In Tellico, you can also find topiaries (including the giant cartoonish worm reading a book outside the Tellico Plains Public Library) as well as some sculptures including the large red rocking chair across the street from the library or the crescent moon at 607 Veterans Memorial Dr.

You'll also find these quilt squares on various buildings, part of a series celebrating Appalachia's quilt culture. <https://www.vacationaqt.com/>